

Staying safe with NDCS

NDCS want you to grow, learn, have fun and stay safe

What NDCS does

Checks out activities, buildings and places to make sure they are safe for you

Makes sure they have the best adults to work with you

Makes sure adults in purple t-shirts and people on the Buzz website know what to do if you are being hurt, made sad or upset at home or somewhere else

Helps you and other young people to treat each other well

Gives you and your parents information to help keep you safe, especially on the internet

Helps you to take part in activities safely

What you can do

Be kind to other children and young people

Tell someone if an adult or another young person is doing something which hurts you or makes you unhappy

Make sure you know about how to keep yourself safe, especially on the internet

Tell us if you haven't understood what we tell you about activities

Tell NDCS (people with purple t-shirts, or people whose names are on the Buzz website) if there is something you are not happy about on an activity or on the website or www.buzz.org.uk

Other places you can get advice:

Childline

Provides free help and advice about a wide range of issues and online counselling childline.org.uk

Centre for Exploitation and Online Protection
Works across the UK tackling child sex abuse and providing free advice for parents, young people and professionals about keeping safe
ceop.police.uk

